

Roaster & Baristas Origin Retreat 2016

15th – 18th November 2016

Jungle Estates, Nyeri Kenya

About the Origin Retreat

This program will give Barista's and Roasters a fundamental appreciation and learning of the production and pre/post-harvest process at a specialty coffee estate in Kenya. Participants will be enjoined in harvesting as well supporting the local coffee community. In sharing this experience, they understand coffee production. It will also allow them to network with fellow roasters & barista's, building lifelong business and information sharing networks.

Please note that the work will be very physical.

About Jungle Estate

Set high in the Mt. Kenya highlands, Jungle Estate is a medium scale coffee farm producing single estate, top quality coffee. It sits between two permanent rivers at 5,800 feet above sea level on deep volcanic soils full of nutrients. Jungle Estate is home to top quality coffee due to its intrinsic climatic, geographical and soil features coupled with careful cultivation, nurturing and harvesting of the coffee beans.

The Beautiful High Place

Jungle estate was originally established by the European settlers in Kenya in the late 1920's and named "Jungle Estate" because it was within a very dense indigenous bush. The farm has passed down two generations of European families and is currently owned by Keremara Limited. Keremara is the indigenous name (kikuyu) for a "beautiful high place". Jungle estate specializes in production and primary processing of washed Arabica Coffee on 51 hectares (126 acres).
